

Pre-requisites

- You must install the JamanTV software on your AppleTV. See the instructions on Modifying your Apple TV. Please modify your AppleTV at your own risk. Jaman cannot assume responsibility for changes you make to your AppleTV software. The JamanTV software has been tested on AppleTV software versions 1.0 and 1.1. We cannot guarantee that the software will continue to work on newer versions of the AppleTV platform.
- Your AppleTV and your computer running the Jaman Player must be on the same local area network.

Steps to Synch Jaman Movies to the AppleTV

- Download and install the Jaman Player beta version 0.96 or later. This version can be found at www.jaman.com/blahblahblah
- From the AppleTV's main menu, choose "Settings" then "About". Make a note of the serial number.
- On your Mac or PC, Open a Jaman Player, go to the tools menu and click "Configure Jaman TV."
- On the JamanTV dialog box, click "Add Device".
- Enter the serial number and create a name for the device; click "Ok"
- At this point, the AppleTV will be added to your Jaman Player's list of devices.
- The default options are set to sync all movies in your Jaman Player library to your AppleTV. You should see the synchronization happen. The time it takes for your movies to sync between your computer and your AppleTV depends on your network. Sync'ing will occur quickest if both the computer and the AppleTV are connected to your network by cable. Movie transfers over wireless will take longer.

Additional Information

- If you don't want to transfer all of your Jaman movies to the AppleTV, then highlight your AppleTV in the JamanTV dialog box and choose "Options."
You'll be able to choose which movies get sync'd. If you unselect a movie that is already on your AppleTV, it will be deleted from the AppleTV.
- Movies you've rented that you sync to your AppleTV will expire just as they do on your computer. A green dot next to the movie name says the license is still good. A yellow dot means you need to watch the movie in the next two days, and a red dot means the rental period is over. If you want to reread or purchase the movie, just go back to the library in the JamanPlayer and click "rent again" in the movie's information area.
- If you have purchased a movie, no dot appears next to the movie title.
